A close-up, vertical photograph of a bride. She is wearing a white, strapless wedding dress with a silver, beaded bodice. She has long, dark, wavy hair and is looking slightly to the right. She is holding a large, round bouquet of white roses with green foliage at the base. The background is softly blurred, showing what appears to be a white fabric, possibly a tablecloth or another part of the wedding attire. The lighting is warm and natural, suggesting an indoor setting with windows.
